

Professional skin care you can believe in

The difference

Dr. Spiller Biocosmetics are professional skin care products of the highest quality, developed using the latest in scientific research. Our products are highly effective while also minimizing the potential for allergic reactions or skin irritation due to our careful selection of precious active ingredients.

Our product range offers everything necessary for the very best care of your skin, from essential products such as cleansers and creams to products for the sensitive eye area and care products to treat specific skin problems – for use by your esthetician in the spa, as well as for your home skin care routine.

Our products systematically meet the needs of all skin types; young and combination skin, dry and acne-prone skin, sensitive and mature skin. The sale of our products exclusively through skin care professionals ensures the consultation that is necessary to precisely select your individual care program.

Natural care

Dr. Spiller Biocosmetics uses primarily natural ingredients such as plant oils, spring water and medicinal plant extracts. In our products you will find, for example, jojoba-, olive-, argan- and rose oil as well as extracts of tiger grass, hibiscus, seaweed and schisandra, and other highly effective natural substances.

They all work together with state-of-the-art biological substances such as vitamins, liposomes, oligopeptides, hyaluronic acid and oxygen for results you can see and feel.

Our rigorous quality control ensures the purity of the raw materials we use, making Dr. Spiller Biocosmetics particularly suitable for allergy-prone and sensitive skin.

Premium products, pure luxury

Dr. Spiller Biocosmetics are not only effective, they are also an experience. You can see, feel and smell the difference of our premium skin care products. Silky-soft creams, cooling gels and refreshing face masks pamper your skin as well as your senses from the first moment you use them.

Our exclusive formulations mimic the skin's own systems for protecting and regenerating itself, while assisting the active ingredients in penetrating deep into the skin.

Just the right care for you
Every skin is different. Our six product lines offer customized care for every individual skin type and condition. Your esthetician will advise you as to which combination of products will best suit your skin.

Always ahead

Science and technology is advancing all the time. For this reason, we continually research and develop our entire product range in our own laboratories – therefore our products are always on the forefront of the latest breakthroughs in skin care. Also we are always investing in our production techniques, because the careful handling of raw materials is just as important as their meticulous selection.

Quality and effectiveness

Every effect has a cause and for this reason we only use ingredients, whose effectiveness and hypoallergenic properties have been scientifically proven. We deliberately reject trendy products without verifiable effectiveness.

Biological and hypoallergenic

Learning from nature was the initial concept behind Dr. Spiller Biocosmetics. Even today water-in-oil emulsions form the basis of many of our care products. We use an abundance of natural, clinically proven active ingredients such as plant oils, spring water and medicinal plant extracts.

Professional consultancy and a series of special products for the exclusive use in salons are also an essential part of our Dr. Spiller Biocosmetic care concept. For this reason our biocosmetics are only available through salons and spas.
