CARE

Soluble silk leaves a protecting layer on the skin which balances the natural moisture content. The silk component Fibroin tightens as it dries, the skin becomes smoother and fine lines are reduced.

Dr. Spiller Biocosmetics exclusive silk products benefit from the unique properties of natural silk.

SILK

Silk Treatment is an effective method for more vitality and resilience. The skin is intensively hydrated and the connective tissue is tightened. For a radiant, smooth complexion.

Algae derivates and silk proteins are the main components of this regenerating treatment. The pads turn into a gliding gel by adding moisture and massaging. The ingredients can unfold and are activated.
